DEDICATION

From the direction of North Hall comes the sound of a man whistling . . . It is soon recognized as a song of an extraordinary teacher, colleague and friend. Always, there is upon meeting him a gentle and meaningful word — a greeting from a caring friend which somehow makes the recipient feel more worthwhile. And so he affects our community of learning with his enthusiasm for the College, the Christian Faith, and all God's people.

Dr. Glass . . . Professor Glass . . . or Joe Glass . . . thank you for your witness and dedication to learning here . . . for being the mentor to students in Christian education . . . for years of service as advisor to the Fellowship of Christian Athletes . . . for belief in collegiate athletics (we'll even acknowledge Clemson's program) . . . for continued support of the Lenoir-Rhyne College tennis program . . . for inspired teaching . . . and for hours spent one on one with people you care about everywhere.

It is to Dr. Joseph Glass, Martin Luther Stevens Professor of Religion, that the Senior Class dedicates this 1985 HACAWA in recognition of and gratitude for his spirit and leadership at Lenoir-Rhyne College.

On Campus

— PROLOGUE —

Each fall, all Lenoir-Rhyne incoming freshmen and transfers are given the opportunity to participate in the College's comprehensive orientation program entitled Prologue. The purpose of the program is to familiarize the new students with the campus, the community, and each other. The program aims to make the students feel at home and a part of the L-R Family.

The activities used in trying to accomplish these goals included: a Scavenger Hunt around campus, a cook-out with the L-R faculty, staff, and administration, faculty advising, the Ropes Course, a Pizza Party sponsored by the Catawba County Chamber of Commerce, and desserts at the homes of faculty and staff members. Another of the many events was the Joe Bear Relay which ended in the football stadium with an introduction of the football team and a pep rally led by the L-R Cheerleaders. A very popular event was the President's Reception held in the Cromer Center. All students turned out in their Sunday best to meet the new President, Dr. John Trainer, and his wife, and to enjoy the entertainment by the Western Piedmont String Quartet.

The combination of all of these activities led to a very successful Prologue. The success was due in large to the hard work of the Prologue Coordinators Gilda Bolick, J.V. Huffman, and Dr. Ed Lewis. These three worked throughout the summer on Prologue. They were assisted by 33 upperclassmen who served as Prologue leaders when the freshmen and transfers arrived on campus.

PARENTS' WEEKEND

PARENTS

Each fall the parents of all Lenoir-Rhyne College students are invited to spend a weekend on the College campus. This weekend is called Parents' Weekend. Parents' Weekend 1984 was held September 28-29. Among some of the special events featured were the mime show with Dr. Tom and Seuss which was held on Friday and Saturday, a dance for students and parents on Friday night, various meetings with the faculty on Saturday morning, and a chance to meet President John Trainer on Saturday afternoon. A Bar-B-Que dinner/ cook-out was sponsored on Saturday evening. Special music at this event was provided by the L-R Music Department and a Bluegrass band. The day ended with the L-R vs Elon football game in the College Stadium. The weekend ended on Sunday with a worship service at St. Andrews Lutheran Church followed by a luncheon in the College Cafeteria.

—OUTDOOR CONCERT—

This year the Program Board dedicated itself to pleasing the Student Body at Lenoir-Rhyne. One way they did this was to offer a wide variety of activities. Some of the activities which they sponsored were ones which had not been held at Lenoir-Rhyne in recent years. One such event was an outdoor concert. This concert was held between the Lineberger Administration Building and the Cromer Center. It featured the Skip Castro Band from Charlottesville, Virginia. Students as well as faculty turned out for the concert. All those in attendance enjoyed the event.

— DR. TOM AND SEUSS —

The Lenoir-Rhyne Playmakers along with the Catawba County Council for the Arts, Inc., the North Carolina Arts Council, and the Grass Roots Art Bill presented a mime show, Dr. Tom and Seuss as part of the Parents' Weekend festivities. Four performances were presented. They took place in the Belk Centrum. The shows were well attended and were enjoyed by everyone who took advantage of the opportunity to see them. This event was only one of the many fine events sponsored by the Playmakers throughout the year.

— HALLOWEEN —

Lenoir-Rhyne students celebrated Halloween in several different ways this year. Some attended the festivities held in the Center which were sponsored by Mauney-Schaffer Dorm. The activities included an ugly contest, a pumpkin carving contest, and the showing of the movies, Alien and Friday the 13th. Free popcorn and drinks were provided for all those in attendance.

While the people in the Center were being scared by the Alien, other students were enjoying the Costume Parties sponsored by several Lenoir-Rhyne Fraternities. These parties featured contests for the best costumes, many of which were very creative and eye-catching.

Whether at the Center or at the Costume Parties, Lenoir-Rhyne students seemed to have a spooky yet wonderfully funfilled Halloween night.

L-R Today is the weekly television program about Lenoir-Rhyne which is produced and written by Rick Strunk and Lisa Nirider, publicity directors at L-R. The show's director is Chip Hammond, Media Technician at L-R. Lisa, Rick, and Chip receive assistance from several quite capable L-R students in preparing and taping the show. These students are: Lora Gussallus, reporter; Gina Mayes, assistant features editor; Pam Martin, assistant director; Jennie Strube, camera operator; Alan Puch, camera operator; and Myra Jenkins, floor manager. The host of the program is Dr. Ellis Boatman, a history professor at L-R.

The taping of the show takes place each Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 in the television studio located in the library. This year, for the first time, the new set designed and built by Professor Ray Mills of the Theatre Dept. and Chip Hammond, is being used. L-R Today airs on Cable TV Channel 8 on Thursday night at 7:30 pm.

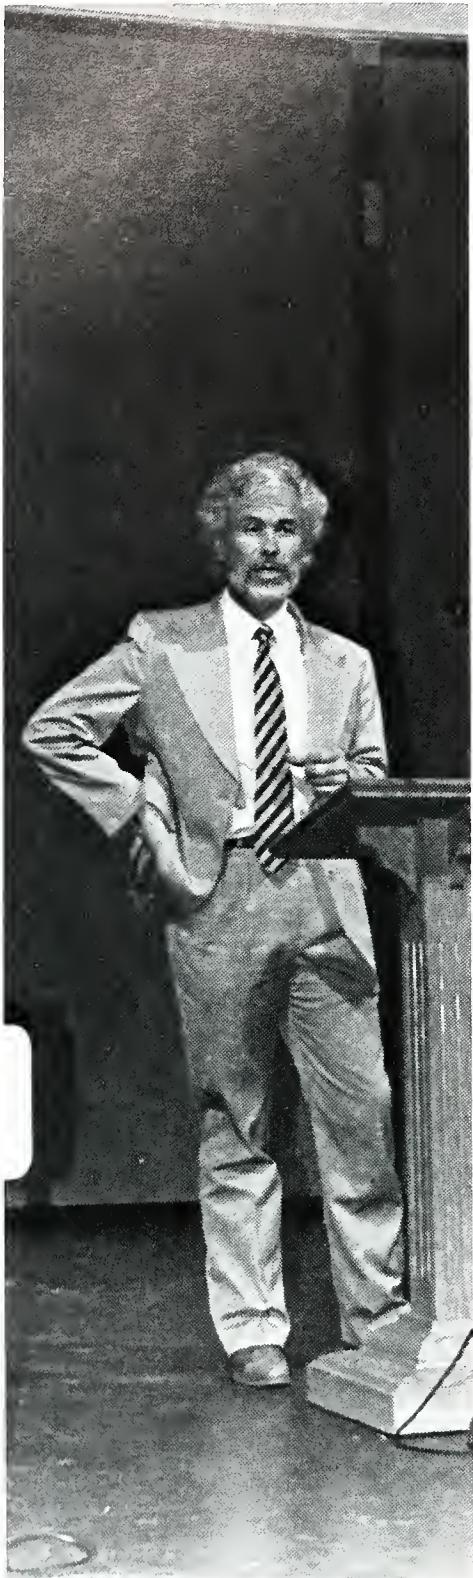

The purpose of the show is to inform the public of what is happening at L-R. Each show consists of one or more guests, a calendar of upcoming events at L-R, sports stories, and a feature story presented in magazine style. The guests are usually students or members of the Lenoir-Rhyne faculty, staff, or administration.

The shows are always interesting, entertaining, and informative. It is well worth one's time to watch L-R Today regularly.

ELECTION ISSUES

This year the people of Hickory had the chance to get involved in and raise their political concerns. This was made possible by Lenoir-Rhyne College and the Catawba County League of Women Voters through the "Elections Issues 1984" series. The series consisted of three meetings which were held on Monday evenings on the L-R Campus in the Belk Centrum from 7:30 to 9:00.

The first meeting was on October 15. Dr. Lowell Ashman, a professor of political science at L-R, presented the topic of Foreign Policy Issues at this meeting. He discussed Central America, the Middle East, U.S.S.R. and the Arms Race, Confrontational Politics, and Trade and Interdependence in his speech. The reactors to the issues were Iolani Ingalls from the League of Women Voters and Christopher Bomba from L-R.

The second forum was on October 22 and dealt with Economic Policy Issues. William Mauney, associate professor of economics at L-R, presented the topics of Reaganomics, the Republican Vision for the Future, and the Democratic Vision for the Future. Jayne Mandle of the League of Women Voters and Adam Draper, a L-R student, served as the reactors to Professor Mauney's statements.

The third and final forum took place on October 29. The topic for this meeting was Domestic Policy Issues. The presenter for this evening was Russell Brown, a professor of economics at L-R. He dealt with Civil Rights, Women's Rights, the Environment, and Deregulation in his speech. Barbara Kenny from the League of Women Voters and Janet Painter from L-R were the reactors to these issues.

At the end of each of three forums, a question and answer period was held. The series was quite informative and interesting. Lots of people from Hickory and the L-R Community attended these forums.

MOCK DEBATE

One of the forums held in the fall was a mock Presidential Debate. Dr. Lowell Ashman of the Political Science Department organized this event. The purpose of the debate was to arouse student interest in the national election. In previous years, such an event was sponsored with faculty members playing the roles of the candidates; however, Dr. Ashman felt that it would be interesting to have politically active students pose as the candidates in this year's debate.

The actors in the debate were as follows: Debate Moderator —

Dr. Lowell Ashman; Ronald Reagan — Adam Draper; Walter Mondale — Luther Faggart; George Bush — David Charlton; and Geraldine Ferraro — Laura Oehler.

Each of the four candidates had an opportunity to present his/her ideas and proposals. A question and answer period with the audience followed these presentations.

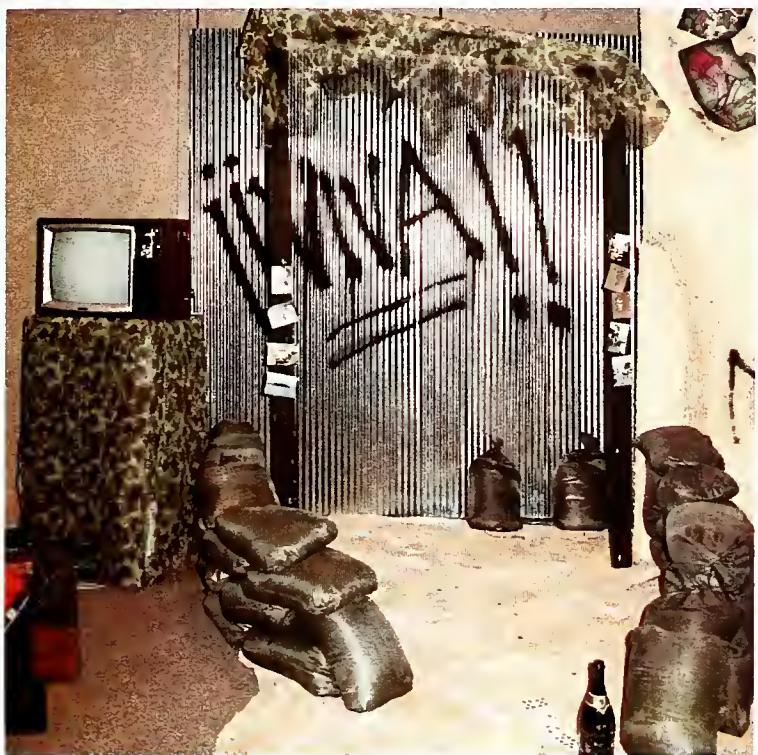

The debate was well attended by students and faculty. Audience participation during the event was very enthusiastic.

LEADERSHIP RETREAT

The second annual Student Leadership Development Retreat was held at the Blowing Rock Assembly Grounds during the early part of the fall semester. Sixty-eight people participated in the event. The participants were students, faculty members, and staff members. Those at the retreat wrote poetry, sang songs, viewed films on motivation, shared understandings of self-concept, and generally enjoyed time together. Sue Shirley of the Leadership Development Institute of Oklahoma City was the retreat leader. The Student Government Association, Student Affairs office, Program Board, the Broyhill Institute, and the Lineberger Center helped underwrite the retreat. The retreat was followed up with a convocation on the subject of leadership on Monday after the retreat.

ANTIGONE

Antigone, the Lenoir-Rhyne Playmakers' first production of the year transformed the Belk Centrum into a modern day Nicaragua. The walls were decorated with graffiti such as "Viva Creon." The buildings used as props were quite shabby which lead the viewer to believe that the buildings had been bombed. Armed guards dressed in army fatigues patrolled the area checking passports. This version of the play was successful in giving a Classical Greek Tragedy a relevant meaning in today's world.

— HOMECOMING 1984 —

Homecoming '84 "Go for the Gold" featured many exciting and funfilled events. The festivities began on Thursday, November 1 with the Silly Olympics held in the Shuford Gymnasium. Six teams participated in this event. The games included: Food-Eating Contest, Balloon Race, Wheelbarrow Race, Amoeba Race, and Belching Contest. The teams in order of their finish were: the OXEN and the Stay Puffs (tied for first place); Luke's Drag-Ins; Mac's Musicians; Doozies; and PBL'ers. The Doozies won the Best Sportmanship award.

Activities continued on Friday with the Class of 1959 Anniversary Dinner at the Lake Hickory Country Club, a pep rally in the Shuford Gymnasium, and a Homecoming Dance in the Cromer Center Entertainment at the dance was provided by the band, A Taste of Honey.

Saturday was the busiest day of the Homecoming weekend. The activities included: Class and Student Body Reunions; the traditional Homecoming Parade; Hall of Fame Inductions; and a Buffet Luncheon in the L-R Cafeteria.

The parade featured the Lenoir-Rhyne Band as well as several local high school bands. Many of the organizations on campus made floats or some other type of entry for the parade. In the float contest, Theta Chi Fraternity won first place honors, Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity won second, and Circle K won third.

Julianne McNamara, a member of the 1984 Olympic Gymnastic Team, served as Grand Marshall in the parade. In addition to riding in the parade, she signed autographs, held a news conference, and attended the football game while on campus. Another celebrity featured in the parade was Miss Claudia Ward, a 1983 Lenoir-Rhyne graduate. Claudia was crowned Miss Caldwell County during the summer of 1984.

: no othe

The highlight of the day and of the entire weekend was the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Ms. Cyndi Chaney.

Cyndi was chosen from a court of 23 lovely young ladies to receive this honor. Cyndi, a senior political science and history major, represented the Theta Chi Fraternity on the Homecoming Court. Ms. Julie Acquino, 1983 Homecoming Queen crowned Cyndi. The first runner-up was Ms. Mindy Rohrbach representing Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, and the second runner-up was Ms. LuAn Hobson representing Kappa Delta Sorority.

With so many class reunions taking place, L-R was bustling with alumni and former students. This gave people the opportunity to gather and meet old friends they may not have seen in quite a while. Homecoming '84 "Go for the Gold" was an absolute success, and it certainly was a coming home for many of our L-R family members.

The success of Homecoming '84 was due in large to Dawn Drexler, Program Board Chairman. Dawn and the Program Board spent many weeks and hours putting together a first-class Homecoming. The general consensus was that they succeeded.

In early December, the Lenoir-Rhyne College Playmakers presented the Pulitzer Prize winning play, "Crimes of the Heart." The play was on the college campus in the Multi-purpose room which is located in the Shuford Gymnasium. Performances were given at 8:15 p.m. on December 6, 7, 10, and 11 and at 2:15 p.m. on December 9.

The play, "Crimes of the Heart" is a bitter and tender comedy. The setting of the play is a small town in Mississippi. The action of the play encompasses the loving tension among three sisters in this small town.

The play was well performed and very entertaining. Many students, faculty, staff, and members of the Hickory community attended the performances.

The play was directed by Cathy Butler, a senior theater major at L-R. She was assisted by Margaret Landrus, a junior at Lenoir-Rhyne College.

— CHRISTMAS —

The Lenoir-Rhyne Community anxiously awaited the coming of Christmas. After Thanksgiving Break, everyone pulled out their Christmas ornaments and decorations. In almost every building one could find the spirit of Christmas.

Beautiful trees were located in the Lineberger Administration Building, in the Mauney Music Building, in the main lobby of the Cromer Center, as well as in the cafeteria. Small trees adorned offices and dormitory rooms. Flashing Christmas lights were placed on windows and doors in dorms and offices. In addition Jolly Old Santa appeared in many places.

If one could not get in the Christmas spirit by seeing the decorations on campus, all one had to do was go to downtown Hickory and see the pretty Christmas trees and other decorations covering this area.

May your heart be filled with joy throughout the Holiday Season

—SGA OUTING—

On a Sunday evening near the end of the fall semester, the Student Government Association Cabinet met with members of the Development Board's Student Life Committee at the Lake Hickory home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Faw.

The Board members wanted to spend time with L-R students, get to know them, and learn what their concerns and opinions were about the campus.

The Development Board identifies the special needs of L-R, gathers ideas, and generates resources to carry out plans for development.

The evening was filled with fellowship and lively discussion.

SGA RETREAT

The SGA Cabinet planned its goals for the spring semester during the 24 hour retreat. The list of 20 goals was later prioritized with a "Top 5" designated for early action. These top goals concerned the security on campus, the academic standards, dorm improvements, food service in the cafeteria, and a student social place.

The retreat proved to be very beneficial for all in attendance.

— DR. LEN WEINGART —

On Monday, January 21, 1985, Dr. Len Weingart presented a forum program entitled "St. Thomas and St. Lowenbrau" in the Belk Centrum at 10:00 a.m. In this forum he explored the conflict between corporate necessity and human morality and the models of conformity that conflict.

Dr. Weingart began by discussing corporate corruption. "This is a fact," he said, "that any corporate job paying over $20,000 will corrupt you, and that corruption will increase in direct proportion to your salary." This corruption usually occurs during product advertising, he said.

A freelance writer, poet, and speechmaker, Weingart speaks from corporate experiences, including work with the Miller Brewing Company.

Weingart described the lavish vacations of corporate staff as "mere image-making." Corporations will spend millions of dollars, he said, simply to appear more impressive than a corporate opponent.

Weingart developed his Forum theme, "St. Thomas and St. Lowenbrau" by setting up parallels equating St. Thomas with personal ethics, or "ethos," and "St. Lowenbrau" and corporate morality.

Ethics, he said are often twisted to fit corporate morality — morality that often includes outright lies.

Corporations "are feeding you misinformation because you insist upon it," Weingart said, and the ignorance and willing gullibility of the public has shown him that "we want lies."

Weingart, a veteran magazine writer, also lead an intensive two-hour workshop on the writer's art as "Persuasion" while on the Lenoir-Rhyne Campus. During the workshop, Weingart reviewed and stressed the basic craft and discipline needed by aspiring student writers.

Weingart, also explained the pressures of a writer. He said that a writer must be ready and willing to undergo extreme and absolute pressure, especially a corporate writer. "If I miss a deadline for a speech, I lose a job and that's the end of my career in corporate writing," he said, "If you can't live in that kind of pressure, stay away! I am not exaggerating."

Weingart who is heavily involved with corporate writing, said that is is by far the most profitable, but he prefers freelance magazine writing. Although he does not have as much time for freelance work, he tries to publish three pieces in a year.

Weingart also pointed out that all writers must have the ability to use a library. He said that a lot of writing requires research, so a writer must know how to perform immediate and effective research and do it correctly.

Weingart has had work published in Sport, Esquire, and Tennis magazines. His poetry has been published in such journals as Literary Review and Southern Poetry Review.

ALEXANDER GREGORYEV

Alexander Gregoryev, a Soviet Journalist touring the United States for the fifth time, told a Lenoir-Rhyne convocation audience on January 28 that the major difference between American and Soviet journalistic styles was the American desire to publish bad news.

Since the Soviet people "do not only want to read the bad news," Russian newspapers "do not have to be sensationalized to make people read them. That happens to a lot of papers in this country," said Gregoryev.

Newspapers are compiled differently in the Soviet Union according to Gregoryev. About 40 percent of a Soviet paper is written by staff writers, while the remainder comes from experts on various subjects and from readers' opinions.

No advertising appears in a Soviet newspaper, while American papers have "so much advertising it is difficult to find what you want and stories of interest," Gregoryev said.

The role of journalism is different in the USSR, he said. "It plays an educational role like PBS in this country."

Not only do the newspapers and magazines comprise different types of stories, the stories are compiled differently.

American journalists commonly use a summary lead paragraph and then develop the details through the story. Soviet journalists, however, will reverse this concept.

One of Gregoryev's purposes in visiting the United States was to study American Journalistic styles. Comparing different news styles, he said that Time and Newsweek magazines are compiled in a manner similar to Russian weekly news magazine zstyle.

The committee consists of Lenoir-Rhyne faculty members, staff members, students, and previous Students of the Month. The persons making up this committee are a diverse group of people.

The Students of the Month are treated to a free lunch, compliments of the Hickory Rotary Club.

— 1985 DINNER THEATRE —

Early in December 1984, the cast began practicing for the Playmakers' annual dinner theater. According to C. Jane Johnson, Promotional Coordinator and Costume Designer for the Playmakers, the dinner theater has fast become the most popular event produced by the Playmakers. For the past couple of years, each of the showings of the dinner theaters has been sold out.

The dinner theater was held in early February and seven performances were given. The show was held at Mull's Convention Center located on Highway 64-70 in Hickory. A buffet dinner catered by Mull's Restaurant preceded the play.

The play presented in this year's dinner theater was "The Oldest Living Graduate." The "oldest living graduate" in the play is the character Colonel Kincaid of Mirabeau B. Lamar Military Academy played by Aaron Lewis, a Lenoir-Rhyne graduate. The rest of the cast was made up of all Lenoir-Rhyne College Students. The director of the play was Dr. Marion Love, and the assistant director was Lori Starbuck, a senior communications major at L-R.

The "Oldest Living Graduate" is the third in a series of comedies set in the small town of Bradleyville, Texas. This series of comedies was written by Preston Jones.

The waiters and waitresses serving at the dinner, all Lenoir-Rhyne students, kept with the mood of the play by dressing ranch-hand style. The buffet dinner which had a Texas flavor, also helped to set the atmosphere for the play.

The first semester of a nursing student's junior year is centered around clinical experiences. Clinical continues until graduation and the last semester is spent in practicum which gives students increased clinical time.

Education. As one of the first colleges or universities in North Carolina to be accredited for teacher education, Lenoir-Rhyne has maintained its high standards for many years. Education is one of the oldest majors here, and graduates consistently place in the upper third of all N.C. students who take the National Teachers Examination.

The Education Department offers variety as well as quality. There are majors in early childhood (kindergarten-fourth grade), intermediate (fourth-sixth grade) or middle school education (sixth-ninth grade). In addition, majors in a wide range of secondary (ninth-twelfth grade) or special subject (kindergarten-twelfth grade) teaching fields, are offered. A certification to teach the hearing impaired in grades K-12, is obtainable.

All students who are prospective teachers take the National Teachers Examinations and must submit satisfactory scores before graduation.

The teacher education program is demanding, but the rewards are great. A graduate of the Education program will be legally qualified for certification in North Carolina and a number of other states. The hearing-impaired program will prepare a graduate for certification to teach hearing-impaired pupils across the nation.

*M*odern and Classical Language.

Through a varied combination of language teaching techniques, the department strives to instruct the students toward a speaking and basic knowledge of a modern foreign language (French, German, or Spanish) as well as a cultural, written, and reading background.

In 1976 Lenoir-Rhyne was one of the first colleges or universities in the United States to receive an Exxon Education Grant to implement the highly successful Dartmouth Model of foreign language instruction.

Students of classical languages have benifited from the Dartmouth Model. A new accelerated program allows them to complete the traditional intermediate level proficiency requirement in half the time.

Religion and Philosophy. The religion and philosophy department offers religion courses designed to help students resolve their religious convictions, life goals, and to help those students wishing to pursue a life in the ministry.

Philosophy courses help the students evaluate current issues and trends. This helps the student understand the continuous changes occurring in the spiritual environment.

The department of religion and philosophy trains students to be leaders in our society as ministers, social workers, lawyers, and related professions.

Business. The Business Administration major is attracting more students and producing more graduates than any other program offered. It is an exciting and innovative major.

With this major a student takes a broad range of courses in the field of accounting, taxation, law, marketing, management, statistics, finance and economics. The application of the computer to the course work adds an extra dimension to the business major. Further enrichment is provided through the internship program which offers qualified majors onsite work experience for a full 15-week semester.

An ongoing program of co-curricular activities is also provided through the department's award-winning chapter of Phi Beta Lambda and the Broyhill Institute for Business Leadership.

In addition, a business education option is offered for those pursuing a teaching career. The Business Education major combines the best of L-R's two largest departments, giving a thorough background in business skills and classroom teaching.

If the business student can meet the challenge of demanding work and have the ambition to explore a wealth of offerings beyond the basics, the opportunities are unlimited.

English. The English Department offers a very flexible because it presents the option of choosing one of three tracks of study. The student can focus on literature by reading, analyzing and discussing the great works of British, American and continental writers. Or, the student can develop imaginative energies in the department's creative writing track. The third track offered is a combination of literary background with skills in newspaper writing, editing and interviewing within the journalism track.

Another major offered is in communications. This major gives students a firm foundation in the liberal arts and specified training in either journalism or television.

The program offers chances for close contact with teachers who are interested in teaching under-graduates. The English faculty members are demanding, yet caring and they expect and receive energetic participation and quality work from their students.

Physics and Earth Science. The physics and earth science department offers majors in physics or environmental studies. Minors are offered in astronomy, physics, and earth science. The department offers strong programs in astronomy and pre-engineering.

Students in astronomy are exposed to and are able to use the observatory which is seen on top of the Minges Science Building. The department likes to hold weekly open houses for any students who wish to become acquainted with the telescope apparatus.

Current goals of the department include modernizing the science laboratory for all students, and better facilitating the use of scientific computers.

Theatre Arts. Theatre Arts is at the core of every liberal arts program. It includes elements of other art forms and the humanities: visual arts, dance, literature, psychology and architecture.

Theatre majors must complete a basic sequence of production and theory courses in theatre. Training in the fundamentals of technical and acting skills are also requirements of this major.

The theatre arts program is in the liberal arts tradition. There is direct course study in acting/directing, scenic and costume design, technical theatre and theatre education. Teacher certification in theatre arts is given through the education department.

A theatre major from Lenoir Rhyne College is a renaissance person — trained to practice a demanding craft with skill and insight.

Chemistry. Chemistry is many things — from simple experiments performed in high school to complex reactions that dictate the most fundamental processes of life.

Chemistry is a foundational discipline. It is used in most areas of science for analysis, research, development, and manufacturing. It opens the door to a wide variety of careers as well as offering a wealth of opportunities for further study beyond the undergraduate level.

A chemistry major may choose either bachelor of science or bachelor of arts programs. The B.S. degree will prepare a student for graduate study of research opportunities in government and industry. The A.B. degree gives the necessary skills for other work in laboratories or chemically related fields.

The student may choose the general studies program or select chemistry/business, chemistry teaching or pre-pharmacy and pre-med tracks.

HACAWA

The Hacawa entered its 77th year with optimism and the hope that this annual would be the best ever. This issue was put together by a diverse group of students resulting in a publication which portrays the breath of the student body, as well as the faculty and the collegiate way of life.

The staff worked diligently throughout the year, preparing, photographing, organizing and meeting deadlines. Sometimes late night work sessions went on until the early morning hours. At first we were held back by a bit of inexperience but in the long run we were pulled together by excellent leadership and superior teamwork. The staff has worked hard to create a final product that all could be proud of!

LENOIR-RHYNEAN

Playmakers is the drama club here at Lenoir-Rhyne. Communications and Theatre Arts majors are automatically made members, and anyone who is interested may join. The Playmakers serve in the many facets of a production such as acting, collecting tickets, taking pictures, costuming, waiting on tables, and applying make-up. The Playmaker schedule for the 1984-85 year was a very demanding one. It sponsored, among others, Arms and the Man, Dr. Tom & Seus, the International Film Festival, the Dinne Theatre, and Ain't Misbehavin'. It also produced several plays, including Antigone, Crimes of the Heart, and The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds.

The North Carolina Student Legislature had its first meeting on November 12, 1937, in the Capitol's House Chamber. It was the first student law-making body of its type in America. The NCSL serves two fundamental purposes. Through actual participation in a model General Assembly, it provides students with close-up and practical education in the political and legislative processes. Additionally, NCSL affords students a statewide forum for expressing opinions and ideas on current issues to state and national leaders.

At the end of the session, which meets in March, all bills that are passed by NCSL are put into a compendium and sent to the General Assembly. The NCSL has about a 40% passage rate. A bill to provide for permanency planning for foster children (introduced by the Lenoir-Rhyne delegation) and the right-to-die law are two examples of North Carolina laws that originated in the NCSL. The organization was incorporated in 1974 as a non-profit tax exempted organization, and now consists of twenty-nine charter members across the state.

Up-Front is a student-to-student counseling service for the Lenoir-Rhyne College community. Its purpose is to be available for conversation, problem-solving, information giving, and as a resource for campus and community referral. Up-Front promotes various campus forums and dorm programs. Peer Counselors attend concentrated training workshops led by Mr. Michael Riley.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The A Cappella Choir has earned a prominent position among college choirs in the United States since its founding in 1935 by the late Professor Kenneth B. Lee. Now in its forty-ninth year, the nationally known choir is noted for its musical ability. The choir is under the direction of Professor E. Ray McNeely, Jr., a native of North Carolina and 1963 graduate of Lenoir-Rhyne College.

The Lenoir-Rhyne Choir is one of the original A Cappella Choirs in the southeastern United States and has grown in size and excellence. Long hours of diligent practice are climaxed by the annual Christmas concert, Sunday concerts, and the week long tour in March. This year's spring tour began with a special festival at Catawba College honoring Bach, and included performances in Atlanta, Birmingham, and New Orleans.

Every student at Lenoir-Rhyne is a member of the Student Government Association. Therefore every student should be involved in the SGA. Involvement can come from running for an office, participating in elections and supporting the officers that are elected. The SGA is very active, its officers represent every class, dormitory, social group and the college at large.

The Student Government Association is a listening association. It identifies the wants and needs of the student body and actively works to fulfill them. The SGA will always fight for students when the cause is just. Student Government has an excellent working relationship with the college administration and faculty and will represent the student body's concerns to them. The SGA is always striving to bring the campus closer together.

In the beginning of the fall semester the SGA holds an Organizations Fair, where new students can learn and obtain information about all the clubs and organizations on campus. The SGA encourages class and dorm identity and helps organize activities through the respective Presidents and councils. They also provide funding to many organizations. Student Government calls regular meetings of the SGA cabinet to identify student concerns and then work towards providing solutions.

Local activities for Gamma Chi Chapter include sponsoring the "Mr. L-RC" Pageant, helping a needy family, visiting the Lutheran Home, and various social activities. Kappa Delta's open motto is to continuously strive for that which is honorable, beautiful, and highest.

The Delta Omicron chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha was first recognized at Lenoir-Rhyne on February 17, 1968, but was nationally founded at Longwood College on October 15, 1898. An international social fraternity and private voluntary organization, Zeta Tau Alpha's goal is to unite its members in a close bond of friendship, and instill in them a spirit of mutual love and helpfulness. They extend their friendship organization, the National Association for Retarded Citizens, the National Philanthropy of the sorority. The sisters kept busy with fund-raisers and activities on campus as well as in the community. This year they strived to strengthen the chapter in scholastics, membership and social activities.

The Lenoir-Rhyne Bear football team ended a disappointing season with a bright spot by defeating long time rival Catawba College to finish the season 1-10. New running sensation Rick Duncan scored the final three Bear touchdowns, the last a fourteen-yard run, to allow L-R to end on a winning note, 21-8.

Even though the Bears suffered through a long season, some impressive outings occurred. Their best effort in a loss came against number 1 ranked Carson-Newman in Hickory. The Bears had a good offensive and defensive effort against a much larger Carson-Newman team. After a long and emotional game, the Bears dropped a tough 28-20 decision.

The Bears had some outstanding personal performances throughout the season. Terence Steward provided the most notable performances by becoming the first Bear receiver in history to catch passes for more than 1,000 yards in a single season. This spectacular achievement moved him into second place in the L-R all-time receiving category in just his second season. In 1984, he finished second in the nation in receiving with 1,040 yards in 65 catches. Steward also led the Bears in scoring with 42 points.

Another stellar offensive player was freshman quarterback Brian Bryson. He became only the fourth Bear in history to throw for more than 1,000 yards in a single season. He finished with 1,132 yards by completing 88 passes in 181 attempts. Defensively, Sam Chambers led the Bears in tackles with 75 solo tackles and 63 assists. Wade Barret led the Bears in sacks with 6 for the season.

The Bears have no more dedicated or faithful group of supporters than the Lenoir-Rhyne cheerleaders, and this squad is certainly a vital part of the color and excitement of L-R football. In preparation for fall 1984, the cheerleaders attended a one week cheerleading camp at Virginia Tech this past summer. They gained valuable experience and learned many new cheers at this camp. Pam Martin and Dale Brill serve as captains for the cheerleading squad.

JOE BEAR

For more than 50 years, the athletic teams of Lenoir-Rhyne College have been known as the Bears.

A live bear mascot made its first appearance in the form of Joe Bear I in 1927, and there were three more live mascots to follow. However, the increasing problem of upkeep, safety and the like made it difficult to keep a live bear on campus.

Since 1961, the official Joe Bear has been a student in costume, and Joe has been a fixture at L-R athletic events since that time.

This year, Joe Bear has a new look as well as a new personality. Starting this year, Tim Hinz plays the role of Joe Bear. To go along with the new and different personality he brings to Joe Bear, Tim also has a new suit and bear head to wear.

BAND

Bryan Shumate

The Lenoir-Rhyne College Marching Band has recently developed a different "look" for its half-time presentations. Modeled after such nationally renowned drum and bugle corps as the Madison Scouts and the Santa Clara Vanguard, the band now features alternate units of flags, rifles, and dancers. The uniforms also reflect this new image with the use of Aussie hats, blouses, and gauntlets.

Personnel in the marching band include students from all academic disciplines and areas of interest at L-R. Although some band members are music majors, the majority come from other areas of study.

The 1984-85 season was only the second year that the band had a flag squad separate from the drill team. With new black, red, and white flags, they added a lot of color and flare to the band. The girls worked long, hard hours under special instructors to develop their skills.

The band marched under the field direction of drum major Allison Ritchie. She is a junior music major from Iron Station, NC, and is in her second year as drum major. Performing very professionally, she is popular with the students.

HONEY BEARS

The Lenoir-Rhyne Honey Bears are a group of girls who do a variety of different activities related to the Bear football program. Their duties include selling programs, assisting in the press box, and with promotional activities like helping with the Bear Cub Club and giving campus tours to football recruits. Coach Jack Patterson is the advisor for the Honey Bears.

BALL GIRLS

Gayla Parris, Jo Stamey, Paige Reynolds, and Betsy Helms assist as ball girls at all the home Lenoir-Rhyne football games.

This year, Lenoir-Rhyne had a new volleyball coach, Ms. Robbie Cameron. She received her Bachelor's degree from the University of North Alabama and her Master's degree from Southern Mississippi. Coach Cameron gained coaching experience at Biloxi High School where she was head volleyball, head softball, and assistant basketball coach before joining the L-R staff. She is a native of Moulton, Alabama.

The team put in many long hours of practice and finished the season with a 12-20 record. Two of the Lady Bears earned all-Carolinas Conference volleyball honors for the 1984 season. Senior hitter LuAn Hobson, a 6-2 player from East Bend, and 5-11 senior hitter Lafonda Jones of Woodruff, S.C. were named to the 12-player conference squad. One of the highlights of the fall sports season at Lenoir-Rhyne in 1984 was the Soccer Team. The team earned a 7-5-1 record for the season. Soccer gained much popularity as students and faculty attended the games regularly in the football stadium. Under first year head coach Gary Hall, a physical education professor at L-R, the team gained a lot of respect.

Leading the team in scoring were Marshall Jones with 9 goals, David Verchick with 7 goals, and Brad Harter with 6 goals. All three of these are freshmen.

With 12 of the 18 members on the team being freshmen, the outlook is bright for the future of L-R Soccer.

The men's basketball team has played extremely well this year. It has been their first year back in the tough and competitive Carolina's Conference. As of February 1, they have a 12-9 record and have high hopes for doing well in the Carolina's Conference Tournament and in the District Tournament.

The team is made up of fifteen players: four seniors, four juniors, three sophomores, and four freshmen. Coach Gibbs describes the team as "a well-rounded group of young men." The future of Lenoir-Rhyne Bear Basketball looks promising.

Gale Kerbaugh entered her third year as head basketball coach of the Lady Bears of Lenoir-Rhyne this past year. Her duties at L-R also include being the Lady Bear softball coach. Before coming to L-R in 1982, she served as an assistant coach in both basketball and softball as well as an administrative assistant in athletics at the University of North Carolina-Greensboro.

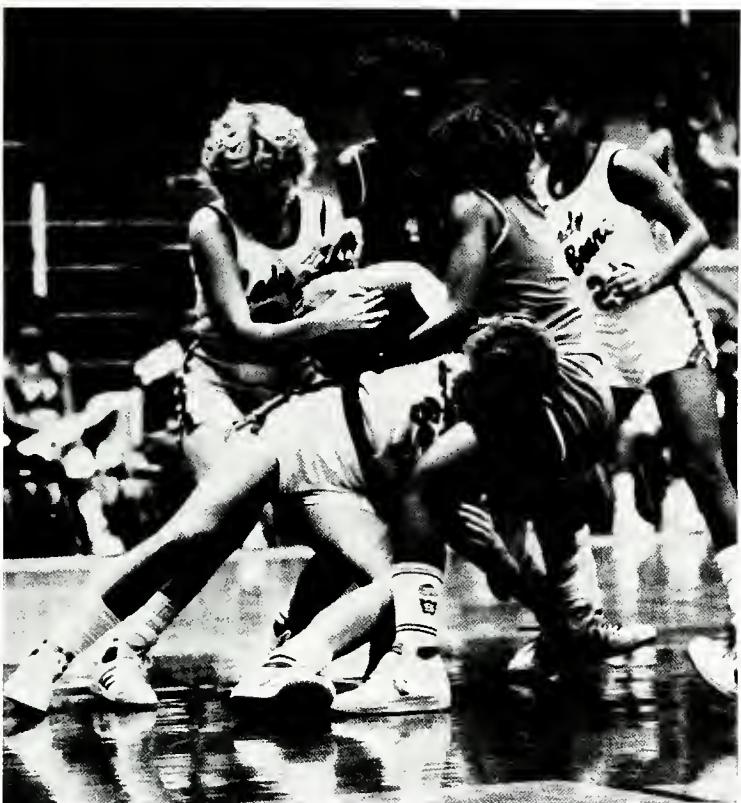

Kerbaugh is a native of Raleigh where she graduated from Broughton High School. Here, she enjoyed a brilliant athletic career. She then attended East Carolina University from which she graduated in 1979. Upon this graduation, she continued her education at the University of Tennessee where she earned her master's degree. Presently, she has completed all but her dissertation towards her doctorate at the University of North Carolina-Greensboro. Her field of study is physical education with an emphasis in the psychology of sport.

Kerbaugh strives for "a quality program with quality people. L-R has a great academic tradition as well as a fine athletic program, and we have got to have students who can excel in the classroom as well as on the basketball floor. That's the type of person we want to attend Lenoir-Rhyne."

Kerbaugh's hobbies include all sports and listening to music. She is also an accomplished musician who can play several instruments.

Kerbaugh is being assisted this year by Sherry Cash, a 1984 graduate of Lenoir-Rhyne College. Kerbaugh is pleased to have Cash as her assistant coach and says, "Sherry will certainly be a big asset to our program, and we are pleased to have some one of her caliber involved with Lady Bear basketball. She was the sort of student — athlete during her playing days at Lenoir-Rhyne that we love to have."

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The 1984-85 season was a disappointing one for Lady Bear Basketball. This was largely due to the fact that the team was quite young and inexperienced. Only five of the twelve players were returning players, while the other seven team members were freshmen.

Still, much improvement was seen over the course of the year even though the team compiled a record of five wins and twenty-three losses. Near the end of the season, the team played some excellent basketball against top-rated teams.

The future of Lady Bear Basketball looks much brighter since eleven of this year's twelve players will be returning to play in the 1985-86 season. Coach Gale Kerbaugh is looking to have a much improved team for next year.

The women's tennis team is looking for improvement this year over the past unsuccessful seasons. In her first year as tennis coach of the women at Lenoir-Rhyne College, Robbie Cameron will be attempting to upgrade this program. There are seven members on the team including three freshmen and only two returning Lenoir-Rhyne Players. Although young and inexperienced, the team is hard-working, and they are excited about this season. As of February 1, they have ten matches scheduled in addition to the Carolina's Conference Tournament and the District Tournament.

Four other returnees are Aaron Egan, Robin Little, Nancy Bridges and Heidi Hagans.

The Lady Bears have added five talented freshmen this year. They are Tymphony Crosby, Leigh Sigmon, Cheryl Sigmon, Connie Houston, and Marty Hobson.

Kerbaugh expected the team to be a good defensive team with good hitters.

TRACK

The outlook for the 1985 Track season at Lenoir-Rhyne College is a good one. Since most of last year's team was made up of freshmen and sophomores, there are quite a few returning team members this year. In addition, numerous freshmen have come out to participate on the track team. With twenty team members, many of which have previously participated in track, Coach Jimmy Kiser feels rather confident that the season will be a good one.

The overall men's champions were the OXEN, and the overall women's champions were the BT II'S.

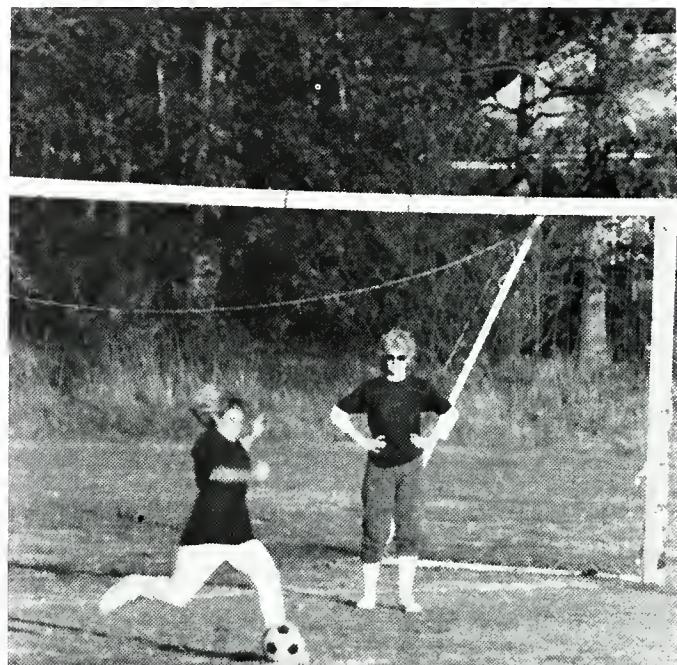

Nate Frambach and Pat Hickey served as coordinators for football as well as for all other intramural sports this year.

INTRAMURAL SOCCER

Soccer was a very popular intramural sport at Lenoir-Rhyne this fall. The girls' teams played a double-elimination round robin tournament during soccer intramurals. The teams participating were the BT II's, Barrons Bears, Doozies, Bombers, Bearly Theres, Bear Necessities, Alcopolickes, and the Rockers. All eight of the teams played well and were stiff opponents. The BT II's and Barrons Bears played for the championship with the BT II's winning by a score of 2-1.

The men's teams played a regular schedule instead of the round robin type of schedule the girls participated in. Five teams took part in these intramurals. The teams were the Enforcers, OXEN, Pi Kappa Phi Puritans, OXEN III, and OXEN II. The Enforcers and OXEN played for the championship with the Enforcers winning by a score of 4-3.

WINTER AT

LENOIR-RHYNE

— IN APPRECIATION —

... Nurse Cox ... Mizz Cox ... or just, O'Lena ... names synonymous with the Lenoir-Rhyne health service. A quiet, concerned, unpretentious lady always ready with gentle, perhaps even folksy, advice on the care and tending of headaches, sore throats, intramural injuries, itches, coughs or the latest flu strain.

Mrs. Cox, a native of Mount Airy, North Carolina, took up practical nursing after raising five daughters. Her youngest, Betsy was a freshman when Mrs. Cox joined the Lenoir-Rhyne health service in 1973. Now after serving almost three cycles of students, she retires. The campus has been blessed with her gentle presence. We are grateful for her time with us and wish her Godspeed.

— IN MEMORIAM —

KENNETH JEWEL OWENS

Born and raised in Burke County, Ken Owens traveled the world as a member of the United States Navy for twenty-seven years. He retired a Senior Chief Petty Officer in 1973. He joined the Lenoir-Rhyne housekeeping department in 1979 where he worked until the time of his death.

He left to mourn his wife, Delores, two daughters, two sons, a sister, his mother and a host of friends and associates at Lenoir-Rhyne College.

The program at an August 15 Memorial Service on the Lenoir-Rhyne campus was one of thanksgiving for a special friend and co-worker. In sadness we were grateful.

The 1985 HACAWA is the product of the thoughts, ideas, and expertise of a diverse group of students. Each individual staff member added something different and unique to the final product.

Our deepest thanks to the following staff members for their contributions as noted:

Steve Seif, Myra Jenkins, Sherry McGuffin, Deanne Wilson, Dana O'Hairy, and Brigitte Kirk for the Organizations Section.

Laura Litrell, Kelly Young, Audrey Duda, Dana O'Hair, Penny Manlove, and Paige Thomas for the Greeks Section.

Sherry McGuffin, Paige Thomas, Mary Safrit, and Deanne Wilson for the Faculty, Staff, and Administrations Sections.

Ann Miller and Sherry Hartley for the On Campus Section. Carla Carter and Kelly Young for the Classes Section.

Alan Deal for the Sports Section.

Charles Whitley and Audrey Duda for the pictures they supplied us with.

Our special thanks to the many others who made our jobs as editors easier. Rick Strunk and Lisa Nirider provided us with many photographs and were always more than willing to take the time to give us their professional assistance, insight, and opinion, as well as their support. We also wish to thank Bryan

Shumate for providing us with many excellent photographs.

Thanks to Sudlow Photography of Danville, Illinois for the pictures in the Classes Section and to Greg Peak for the pictures in the Greek and Organizations Sections. Thanks also to the Hickory Daily Record Staff Photographers, Margaret Moore, Stanley Leary, and Robert Reed, for providing us with excellent sports pictures.

Our most heartfelt thanks to President Trainer and Chaplain Don Just for their support. Chaplain Just was very helpful and was responsible for the copy contained in the Prologue, Epilogue, and several other pages throughout the book. Our Josten's Representative Bill Hall has been very supportive and helpful also. Anytime we needed him, he was available to lend his insight and opinion. Thanks Bill!

Last, thanks to the students, faculty, staff, and administration of Lenoir-Rhyne College who continually showed us their support by supplying us with many photographs and continually giving us encouraging words.

We hope you are pleased with the 1985 HACAWA. We have enjoyed compiling it for you.
